Assignment 5
Reflection

What challenges or bugs did you encounter and how did you overcome the challenges?

The difficult part was correctly arranging the rows and columns in the css grid. The border lines for the grid elements would be at the wrong places. I overcame it with the Inspector feature in Chrome. It became easier to tell where each row and column started, therefore it was easier to understand and fix the problem in the css file.

How is the brand identity of your client reflected through your design choices? What kind of look and feel did you design for them and why?

The Bun Bun Bake Shop is a small bakery in Pittsburgh, and it only delivers within Pittsburgh area. Because of that, I wanted a homemade, family-owned business look for the website. Therefore, the has an extremely minimal aesthetic, and does not have any extra features that would feel like a corporate identity. The decoration is plain and simple, with the white background and the typography that stays constant throughout the whole buying process.
